What is this product?

Type

The SparkChange Physical Carbon EUA ETC (“ETC”) is a series of secured debt securities issued by HANetf ETC Securities plc (the “Company”) that are linked to physical European Union Allowances (“EUAs”) under the European Union Emissions Trading Scheme. The ETC is structured as a debt security and are not units in a collective investment scheme.

Objectives

The ETC is designed to offer investors a means of accessing the European Union carbon dioxide emissions allowance market as they track the spot price of physical EUAs. The ETC provide investment exposure to physical EUAs. The Company holds a note issued by the Backing Issuer (SparkChange Jersey Issuer Limited) and the Backing Issuer holds the physical EUAs in a European Union registry account. Each ETC has an EUA entitlement (“Carbon Entitlement Per Security” (“CEPS”), which is the amount of physical EUA backing each ETC. The daily Carbon Entitlement can be found at www.HANetf.com. The return on your investment in the ETC is directly related to the price of EUAs, less costs (see “What are the costs?” below). The ETC is listed and traded on a stock exchange (such as the London Stock Exchange). Investors who are not authorised participants (e.g. select financial institutions) can only buy the ETC on a stock exchange (e.g. via a broker) at the then prevailing market price. Normally, investors will sell their ETC via a stock exchange. Alternatively, investors may redeem their ETC directly with the Company in exchange for EUAs delivered to their nominated registry account and the Company has the right (but not the obligation) to trigger a Compulsory Redemption of the ETC. The price of EUAs fluctuate daily and the value of EUAs are driven by various factors including environmental and energy policies, emissions levels, seasonality, energy prices, equity prices, net demand from financial investors, the operation of the market stability mechanism and forward-looking expectations around each of the above. These factors may all affect the value of your investment. ETCs are denominated in Euros, the ETC’s base currency. The ETC is listed and traded in currencies other than the base currency on one or more stock exchanges. The performance of your ETC may be affected by this currency difference.

Intended retail investor

The ETC is intended for retail investors with the ability to bear losses up to the amount invested in the ETC. The ETC is appropriate for medium to long term investment, though the ETC may also be suitable for shorter term exposure (see further below “How long should I hold it and can I take money out early?”).

Insurance benefits

The ETC does not offer any insurance benefits.

Term

The ETC does not have a fixed term of existence, or maturity period, but in certain circumstances an early redemption may occur upon election by the Company or (in the case of a default by the Company) by the Trustee (Law Debenture Trust Corporation plc), subject to prior notice by an announcement on a regulatory information service if: (a) the Company exercises its call option at any time by giving 30 days’ notice that it is redeeming the ETC; (b) certain legal or regulatory changes occur in relation to the Company; (c) the Company is, or there is a substantial likelihood that it will be, required to make a payment in respect of, register for or account for VAT; (d) the Company does not perform or comply with a material obligation under the terms of the ETC or the security deed or trust deed relating to the ETC, after the expiry of the relevant grace period; or (e) the Company is subject to liquidation.

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk Indicator

Lower Risk

The risk indicator assumes you keep the ETC for 5 years. The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less.

Higher Risk

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this ETC compared to other ETCs. It shows how likely it is that the ETC will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. We have classified this product as 6 out of 7, which is the second-highest risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a high level, and poor market conditions are very likely to impact the Fund's capacity to pay you..

Be aware of currency risk. The currency of this ETC (and/or the trading line of your ETC securities) may be different from that of your country. As you may receive payments in a currency not that of your country, the final return will depend on the exchange rate.

The ETC does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.

Performance Scenarios

What you will get from this ETC depends on future market performance. Market developments in the future are uncertain and cannot be accurately predicted. The unfavourable, moderate, and favourable scenarios shown are illustrations using the worst, average, and best performance of the ETC over the last 10 years. The scenarios shown are illustrations based on results from the past and on certain assumptions.

Example Investment: 10,000 EUR		Recommended Holding Period: 5 years
Scenarios		If you exit after 1 year	If you exit after 5 years (Recommended Holding Period)
Minimum	There is no minimum guaranteed return. You could lose some or all of your investment

What happens if HANetf ETC Securities plc is unable to pay out?

In case of a default by the Company, any claims made against the Company will be satisfied in order of the priority of payments set out in the conditions of the ETC and you may face a financial loss of some, or all the amount invested.

The ETC is not protected under any financial services compensation scheme.

What are the costs?

Costs over time

The tables show the amounts that are taken from your investment to cover one-off, ongoing and incidental costs. These amounts depend on how much you invest, how long you hold the ETC and how well the ETC performs. The amounts shown here are illustrations based on an example investment amount and different possible investment periods.

We have assumed:

- In the first year you would get back the amount that you invested (0 % annual return).
- For the other holding periods we have assumed the ETC performs as shown in the moderate scenario.
- EUR 10,000 is invested.
