FUND OVERVIEW

The Fund seeks to track the performance of an index which offers indirect exposure to commodities through the use of a total return swap.

On 1st February 2022, the benchmark changed from Bloomberg Roll Select Commodity Total Return Index to Bloomberg Enhanced Roll Yield Total Return Index. The change will be reflected in the benchmark data.

KEY BENEFITS

- 1. Indirect exposure to a portfolio of different commodity contracts from seven different sectors.
- 2. Aims to mitigate potential losses when closing a contract and opening a new one.
- 3. Use to gain potential diversification benefits alongside a traditional allocation of equities and bonds.

CAPITAL AT RISK: The value of investments and the income from them can fall as well as rise and are not guaranteed. Investors may not get back the amount originally invested.

KEY RISKS:

- Credit risk, changes to interest rates and/or issuer defaults will have a significant impact on the performance of fixed income securities. Potential or actual credit rating downgrades may increase the level of risk.
- Investment risk is concentrated in specific sectors, countries, currencies or companies. This means the Fund is more sensitive to any localised economic, market, political, sustainability-related or regulatory events.
- Derivatives may be highly sensitive to changes in the value of the asset on which they are based and can increase the size of losses and gains, resulting in greater fluctuations in the value of the Fund. The impact to the Fund can be greater where derivatives are used in an extensive or complex way.
- The prices of commodities tend to experience greater variations than other asset classes (e.g. equities or fixed income securities). Investments in commodities are therefore potentially riskier than other types of investments.
- Counterparty Risk: The insolvency of any institutions providing services such as safekeeping of assets or acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments, may expose the Share Class to financial loss.
- The Fund's ability to track the benchmark's performance is reliant on the counterparties to continuously deliver the performance of the benchmark in line with the swap agreements (i.e. counterparty risk) and would also be affected by any spread between the pricing of the swaps and the pricing of the benchmark. If any swap counterparty fails to provide sufficient assets as security for amounts owed to the Fund, there might be an increased counterparty risk exposure at a given time.
