REPORT OF THE MANAGEMENT BOARD FOR ISHARES EB.REXX® GOVERNMENT GERMANY 10.5+YR UCITS ETF (DE)Report of the Management Board

Dear Investors,

In 2024, BlackRock Asset Management Deutschland AG ("BAMDE") was able to assert its position in the ETF market. In 2024, the market for ETPs and ETFs in Europe continued to develop dynamically. BlackRock's iShares division in particular benefited from this development and thus also the iShares branded ETFs managed by BAMDE in Germany. Considering the market relevant to BAMDE, iShares had the highest share of new business inflows into ETFs in the EMEA region in 2024. EMEA iShares achieved net inflows of USD 91.1 billion USD or EUR 87.7 billion EUR in the entire EMEA region (Europe, Middle East & Africa) in 2024 (previous year: USD 70.8 billion or EUR 64.1 billion), corresponding to a market share of 34% in inflows. In contrast, BAMDE recorded net outflows. This is explained by the different product offerings of the BAMDE ETF platform, which focuses primarily on European and German equities, compared to the Irish platform, which tracks global and tech indices.

The range of iShares ETFs currently comprises 761 share classes admitted for sale in Germany. This gives investors in this country easy and diversified access to a variety of global markets and asset classes. Around one tenth (67) of these exchange-traded share classes are set up in Germany and can be recognized by the "(DE)" in the fund name.

As of 30 September 2025, the volume of German funds under management was USD 72.7 billion or EUR 61.9 billion. The volume of the 23 sub-funds of iShares (DE) I Investment Stock Company with sub-funds, of which 22 sub-funds are admitted for public distribution, was USD 16.0 billion or EUR 13.6 billion on the same date. This Semi-Annual Report provides you with detailed information about the performance of our index funds.

The German economy is proving relatively robust in a difficult environment. Overall, from today's perspective, real gross domestic product (GDP) could increase slightly in the third quarter of 2025. Investment conditions for firms remain unfavourable amid weak competitiveness and low-capacity utilisation. However, there are no signs of any major setback for industry in the third quarter, despite additional burdens caused by the new US tariffs. On the contrary, it could even make a positive contribution to GDP growth. Industrial output rose steeply in July after seasonal adjustment. Priceadjusted sales increased significantly as well. As this noticeably good start to the quarter is based on notable developments in the case of the mechanical engineering sector and car manufacturers, it is unlikely to be sustained. However, combined with the leading indicators, it suggests that output will increase on a quarterly average. In fact, the underlying trend in new orders is still pointing upwards. In addition, following the preliminary trade agreement between the United States and the EU, survey indicators showed signs of a slowdown in August, but remained relatively robust overall. Exports to the United States are unlikely to weigh as heavily as in the second quarter. These rose sharply in the first quarter ahead of the introduction of US tariffs in April and then plummeted. A recovery is yet to materialise in the construction sector. Financing conditions have remained stable and demand is tending to increase. However, improved demand is not yet reflected in higher output. Private consumption is likely to rise slightly, if at all. The labour market is not currently providing any stronger stimulus in the form of rising employment, and the steep wage growth so far is likely to tail off. There are signs of a sideways movement in the services sector (excluding trade). According to the ifo Institute, businesses believe their current business situation to be worse averaged across July and August than in the previous quarter, but they were more optimistic looking ahead.

Industry got off to a surprisingly good start in the third quarter. Following the June figure, which had undergone substantial upward revision, seasonally adjusted industrial output rose steeply in July. Industry recorded a steep quarter-on-quarter increase in output as well. Sales reflect this momentum: price-adjusted industrial sales were also significantly higher in July, both in the month and the quarter. Export business continued its recovery path, which had already started last year. The output growth in July spread across all categories of goods, with capital goods producers standing out as the main driver. Mechanical engineering saw unusually strong growth compared with both the previous month and the previous quarter. Output in the automotive industry also exceeded the already elevated level recorded in the previous month. The timing of plant shutdowns is likely to have played a role in this, however. In August, the German Association of the Automotive Industry again reported a decline in the number of passenger cars produced. Taking the average of July and August, the figure was down in the previous quarter. The special developments in these two sectors suggest that output was only significantly higher in July.

Since the start of the Russian Federation's war of aggression against the sovereign neighbouring state of Ukraine on February 24, 2022, economic sanctions against Russia, which had already been in place since 2014, have been significantly expanded. In addition to the European Union, these were also issued by other international organizations as well as nation states, such as the United Kingdom, Norway or Switzerland against companies, individuals or officials. The sanctions are supplemented by further decrees and regulatory measures which, among other things, have significantly restricted trading in Russian securities. The long-term consequences of the conflict are difficult to assess at this point in time. The iShares funds of BlackRock Asset Management Deutschland AG (including TGVs) had no direct exposure to Russian or Ukrainian securities as of the reporting date.

With its broad product range geared to investor and market interests, the company sees itself well-positioned to compete, even though increasing competitive pressure is being felt, partly as a result of the market entry of further and in some cases large competitors, which is increasing the pressure on margins in the asset management industry. In order to maintain the Company's position in the future despite increasing competition in the ETF market, a large number of customer group-specific and individual sales activities are planned.

REPORT OF THE MANAGEMENT BOARD FOR ISHARES EB.REXX® GOVERNMENT GERMANY 10.5+YR UCITS ETF (DE)

Institutional and private investors do not just value iShares ETFs as components of their portfolios for implementing their own investment ideas. As the funds become more widespread, the demand for ETF-based insurance solutions, ETF savings schemes and asset management products based on ETFs also grows. In this context, we have worked with partners to design models that offer suggestions for suitable asset allocations for investor types with different risk/reward profiles. In the reporting period, this included developing model portfolios for banks, various online brokers, and providers of digital asset management services, commonly known as robo-advisors. In the European ETF market, iShares is still excellently positioned as a provider from the onset. We continue to invest in excellent service and products that meet our customers' needs. We intend to further extend our market leadership by means of continuous and innovative expansion of our offering. The strategic competitive advantages of iShares ETFs include high market liquidity, tight bid/ask spreads, and highly accurate index replication.
