Key risks

The value of your investment may fall as well as rise and you may get back less than you originally invested.

The value of equity securities may go down as well as up in response to the performance of individual companies and general market conditions, sometimes rapidly or unpredictably. If a company goes through bankruptcy or a similar financial restructuring, its shares in issue typically lose most or all of their value.

The value of FDIs can be volatile. This is because a small movement in the value of the underlying asset can cause a large movement in the value of the FDI and therefore, investment in such instruments may result in losses in excess of the amount invested by the Sub-Fund. While the Sub-Fund uses an options overlay strategy which is intended to provide a continuous market hedge for the portfolio, there is no guarantee that the strategy will achieve this. The "laddered" component of the strategy is designed to mitigate potential risks associated with only one hedge period, but there is no guarantee that the Investment Manager will be able to do so successfully. Selling call options will create exposure for the Sub-Fund, as it may have to deliver the underlying securities or their value and, should the market move unfavourably, this may result in an unlimited loss. For put options, if the overall market experiences a significant downturn, the value of relevant index may decline sharply and substantial losses could be incurred. The Sub-Fund's financial liability is therefore linked to the value of the underlying index.

REITs and real estate related investments are subject to the risks associated with the ownership of real estate which may expose the relevant Sub-Fund to increased liquidity risk, price volatility and losses due to changes in economic conditions and interest rates.

Sustainability risk may materially negatively impact the financial condition or operating performance of an issuer and therefore the value of that investment. In addition, it may increase the Sub-Fund's volatility and/or magnify pre-existing risks to the Sub-Fund. Further information about risks can be found in the "Risk Information" section of the Prospectus
