Chairwoman's Letter to Shareholders

1 September 2025 to 28 February 2026

Dear Shareholder,

I am writing to update you on the activities of BlackRock Global Funds ('BGF') over the six months to 28 February 2026. The BGF range comprised 109 Funds (each a "Fund", together the "Funds") as at 28 February 2026.

The past six months have been characterised by further gains in global equity markets as inflation has remained under control and central banks in Europe and North America have continued relaxed monetary policy. Despite the recent period of high interest rates, economic growth around the world has remained relatively resilient. However, ongoing conflict in the Middle East and Ukraine as well as concerns about the US government's imposition of a wide range of tariffs on its international trading partners have weighed on investor sentiment and created volatility.

In Europe, gross domestic product ("GDP") data slowed in the second half of 2025. The US economy grew faster than expected in the third quarter of 2025 but underperformed expectations in the last quarter, in part as a result of the extended government shutdown at the beginning of the quarter.

In the most recent edition of its World Economic Outlook Update, published in April 2026, the International Monetary Fund ("IMF") revised its forecasts for global economic growth downwards due to the expected impact of conflict in Iran. Having forecast growth of 3.3% at the start of the year, the IMF said that the world economy could expand by as little as 2.5% in 2026 if energy prices remained elevated as a result of this conflict.

Advances in share prices over six months were driven by strong corporate performance, especially in the technology sector, although there were increasing concerns about high valuations among companies with exposure to artificial intelligence ("AI") later in the period. In addition, there was volatility in the share prices of software providers in early 2026 due to concerns that AI could significantly disrupt business models in the sector.

The US government shutdown that began in October 2025 created nervousness among investors and delayed the publication of key economic data. Meanwhile, the Trump administration's unpredictable approach to foreign policy – including the possibility of conflict with Iran – created further turbulence in financial markets in January and February 2026.

In terms of monetary policy, the US Federal Reserve ("the Fed") reduced interest rates for the first time in 2025 in September, and made two further cuts in October and December as inflation remained under control. The Bank of England ("BoE") continued to cut interest rates in response to lower inflation and signs of economic weakness, but the European Central Bank ("ECB") left rates unchanged over the period.

In China, stock markets continued to be supported by stimulus measures implemented by the People's Bank of China and the Chinese government. The Japanese market recorded exceptionally strong performance as exporters shrugged off the impact of US tariffs and looked forward to higher government spending.

There was continued volatility in fixed-income assets during the period. US government bond yields declined overall as a result of lower interest rates (when yields fall, bond prices rise), although yields on bonds issued by the Japanese government rose on expectations of increases in the rate of inflation.

The assets under management ("AUM") in the BGF range rose 13.4% from USD 160.1 billion to USD 181.6 billion over the period.

The largest inflows in percentage terms were seen across a broad range of Funds during the six months. The net asset value of the Asian Multi-Asset Income Fund rose by 179.5% to end the period at USD 555.2 million. Meanwhile, the MyMap Moderate Fund saw its assets rise 120.5% to close at EUR 41.1 million and the MyMap Growth Fund added 117.5%, ending at EUR 45.6 million. Assets in the World Gold Fund grew by 115.1%, ending the six months at a value of USD 14.9 billion.

Conversely, the assets in the Global Long-Horizon Equity Fund declined by 49.9% to end the period at USD 701.3 million, while the size of the Chinese Onshore Bond Fund fell 47.9% and closed at CNH 306.9 million. The FinTech Fund saw its AUM decline 47.7% to USD 135.4 million and the net asset value of the Circular Economy Fund fell 31.7%. It ended the review period at USD 585.7 million.

During the period, there were a number of changes to the BGF range. The US Government Mortgage Impact Fund was terminated in October 2025 while the Nutrition Fund was terminated in November 2025. Meanwhile, the Asian Sustainable Equity Fund, the China Innovation Fund and the US Sustainable Equity Fund were terminated in January 2026.

Several Funds were launched over the six months. In October 2025, the Systematic Islamic GCC Equity Fund was launched, while both the Euro Income Fixed Maturity Bond Fund 2030 and the Global Securitised Fund were launched in November 2025. The Diversified Tactical Fund was launched in January 2026. Finally, the ESG Global Conservative Income Fund was renamed as the European Multi-Asset Income Fund.

The information stated in this report is historical and not necessarily indicative of future performance.

Chairwoman's Letter to Shareholders

1 September 2025 to 28 February 2026 continued

Regulatory change continued throughout Europe and a number of recent developments could have implications for investors. Key changes included:

- ▶ The European Union's ("EU's") Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation ("SFDR") imposes transparency and reporting obligations on investment management firms, both at a firm-wide level and at a product level. At the same time, the EU has developed and adopted an EU-wide classification system or 'framework'. This taxonomy is designed to provide businesses and investors with a common language to identify to what degree economic activities can be considered environmentally sustainable. In November 2025, the European Commission put forward proposals aimed at bringing additional simplification and clarity to SFDR. These will be deliberated by the European Parliament and the Council of the EU in due course. There have also been moves to improve reporting, with the Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive ("CSRD") implemented in 2024. Under the CSRD regulations, companies are obliged to report on sustainability across their supply chains ("Scope 3"), and are also required to incorporate double materiality into their reporting. Double materiality is the requirement to report not just on how sustainability-related issues affect the company, but how the company's activities affect the likes of the environment, climate change and social issues. However, in December 2025, the European Parliament voted to apply the CSRD regulations only to larger companies, i.e. those with more than 1,000 employees and annual turnover in excess of EUR 450 million. The Luxembourg government has taken further steps to encourage investment in environmentally sustainable funds, reducing the 'taxe d'abonnement' (subscription tax) for funds that meet certain environmental criteria.
- ▶ In August 2024, the European Securities and Markets Authority ("ESMA") published guidelines concerning the marketing of undertakings for collective investment in transferable securities ("UCITS") funds in the EU and European Economic Area. The guidelines stipulate that investment management firms should ensure that any language relating to sustainability used when marketing and naming funds is 'fair, clear and not misleading'. The guidelines came into effect in full in May 2025.
- ▶ Amendments to the Alternative Investment Funds Manager Directive ("AIFMD") and Directive relating to UCITS were published by the European Commission in March 2024. Under the new AIFMD 2, existing regulatory practices are to be harmonised in order to facilitate the structuring and marketing of alternative investment funds across the EU. The changes relate to issues ranging from delegation activities and liquidity risk management to regulatory treatment of custodians, and are scheduled to come into effect in April 2026.

Investment Adviser's Report

Performance overview

1 September 2025 to 28 February 2026

Market Review

Over the six months under review, global stock markets performed positively overall as inflation remained under control and major central banks in North America and Europe continued to reduce interest rates. However, there were periods of considerable volatility due to uncertainty around the direction of trade and foreign policy in the US.

The period began with strong gains in September 2025 as the Fed lowered interest rates for the first time since December 2024. Further cuts in October and December offered additional support to financial markets. However, October's lengthy US government shutdown had a negative impact on investor sentiment and delayed the publication of key data relating to the health of the US economy.

There was volatility among technology stocks in the autumn as company valuations appeared increasingly stretched. Nonetheless, major AI developers and hardware providers continued to demonstrate strong corporate performance. Conversely, firms involved in the information and enterprise software sector saw significant share-price declines in early 2026 on fears that AI could disrupt such companies' business models.

Markets in the US and Europe saw further weakness in January 2026 due to a dispute between political leaders on both sides of the Atlantic regarding the ownership of Greenland. Having initially threatened to increase the tariffs imposed on EU member states, President Trump took a more conciliatory tone on hopes that a diplomatic solution could be agreed. Meanwhile, the possibility of an escalation of tensions between the US and Iran created nervousness in financial markets at the end of the six-month period.

Economic data in China continued to show resilience, despite the impact of US tariffs and other trade restrictions as well as concerns about slowing domestic demand. Chinese GDP was reported to have risen by 5% during 2025, largely due to a sustained increase in export activity, and share-price performance in China remained positive.

The Japanese stock market was one of the strongest performers over the reporting period. Investors welcomed the appointment of the country's first female prime minister, Sanae Takaichi, in October 2025. Her government announced a major stimulus package that raised hopes of improved economic performance.

Government bond yields in the US and UK in particular declined over the period as the countries' central banks continued to reduce interest rates (bond yields move inversely to prices). The yield on 10-year US Treasuries declined from 4.3% at the beginning of September 2025 to less than 4% at the end of February 2026.

Outlook

Despite periods of volatility, equity-market performance in late 2025 and early 2026 has been largely positive, with inflation remaining under control, interest rates continuing to fall and companies across a wide range of sectors reporting robust performance.

While the introduction of tariffs by the US government created a significant degree of share-price turbulence and investor uncertainty last year, financial markets appear to have shrugged off these worries. However, there are a number of grounds for concern as we move into 2026. The geopolitical situation in Ukraine and, in particular, the Middle East remains highly unstable, while the after-effects of the US government shutdown that began in October and lasted into mid-November continue to be felt across the American economy.

At the same time, there are growing concerns related to the ongoing high levels of capital expenditure on AI infrastructure by major technology firms, as well as fears that the valuations of businesses across the technology sector have become overstretched.

Notwithstanding these challenges, there are companies in all areas of the global economy that have demonstrated their resilience through the turbulence of recent years, and which are set to benefit from looser monetary policy and positive technological developments. While there will undoubtedly be challenges in the months ahead, so too will opportunities continue to emerge.

Investment Adviser's Report

Performance overview

1 September 2025 to 28 February 2026 continued

Environmental, social and governance ("ESG") policy

The performance return table outlines the investment management approach adopted for each Fund. It also identifies which Funds promote environmental or social characteristics ("Article 8 Funds") or have sustainable investments as an objective ("Article 9 Funds"), under the EU Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation ("SFDR"). Further detail around how Article 8 and Article 9 Funds have achieved these characteristics and objectives is included in the Sustainability-related disclosures supplementary section to the Annual Report.

For any other Funds that do not meet the SFDR criteria for Article 8 or 9 Funds, the investments underlying this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The Investment Adviser has access to arrange of data sources, including principal adverse indicator ("PAI") data, when making decisions on the selection of investments. However, whilst BlackRock considers ESG risks for all portfolios and these risks may coincide with environmental or social them associated with the PAIs, unless stated otherwise in the prospectus, each Fund does not commit to considering PAIs in driving the selection of their investments.

Disclosed in the table below are the performance returns for the A Class Non-Distributing Share Class for each Fund, net of fees and expenses, which has been selected as a representative Share Class. Performance returns for any other Share Class can be made available on request.

Calculation methodology is based on industry standards.

Past performance is not a guide to future performance and should not be the sole factor of consideration when selecting a product. All financial investments involve an element of risk. Therefore, the value of an investment and the income from it will vary and the initial investment amount cannot be guaranteed. The Fund invests in a large portion of assets which are denominated in currencies other than US dollar; hence changes in the relevant exchange rate will affect the value of the investment. The performance figures do not consider charges and fees that may be levied at the time of subscription or redemption of shares. Levels and bases of taxation may change from time to time. Subscriptions may be made only on the basis of the current Prospectus, of which the most recent annual report and audited financial statements and interim report and unaudited financial statements form an integral part, as well as Key Information Documents (PRIIPs KID). Copies are available from Investor Services, the Transfer Agent, the Management Company or any of the Representatives or Distributors. The BGF range is only available for investment by non-US persons. It is not offered for sale or sold in the US, its territories or possessions.

The Funds are not registered for sale to the public in all jurisdictions. Further details on distribution of shares of the Funds are included in the Authorised Status on page 6.
